The proposed Canadian National acquisition of the E. J. & E. will impose severe traffic and noise problems upon many thousands of Aurora residents. In addition many from surrounding suburban areas using Aurora's main arteries will be impacted on their way to and from jobs.

Unless all main at-grade crossings are changed to overpass situations, life here will become unbearable. Traffic congestion is already intolerable, but to triple the number of trains passing through Aurora with little or no relief is unacceptable. The one hundred million dollars proposed for infrastructure changes won't go very far to address the problems which the C.N. is trying to impose upon the city of Aurora.
