I attended the STB meeting tonight at Barrington High School. I was enlightened by ~~so~~ so many viewpoints were brought up that exemplified the negative impact the CN purchase of E.J.&E. would have.

Barrington and surrounding communities are rural. People live here because they want a rural life style. The severe impact the increase in number and length of trains would have would essentially wipe out that rural life style of hundreds of thousands of people and destroy the value of their single most important investment: their home.

CN should look for a CHICAGO by-pass route much further west where the impact would be far less.
