Any movement on the final decisions on these two realignments?

Good morning Bill –

Yes, I was in a Teams meeting at the time you called.

The Board is working on decisions in both petitions to reopen. As you know, I can't relay any information on timing of those decisions.

Regarding formal filings and environmental comments, nothing has come in since the petitions to reopen were submitted in September 2021. However, you can indeed search for environmental comments on the Board's website. From the home page, click on the reddish colored "Search STB Records." On the next page, the "Search for" item is set for "Decisions" by default, but in the associated dropdown menu you can select "Environmental Comments." The page will refresh and you will get options to search "All" (i.e., incoming and outgoing), "Incoming" or "Outgoing" environmental correspondence. From there, you can enter the docket number of interest. Selecting "Search" at this time will provide results for the entire duration of the docket, or you can select a date range to focus on. Optionally, if interested, the search function also enables you to search by comment ID number, docket title, organization, recipient, submitter and text content.

I hope that helps.

Just tried to call. Any updates? Were any comments filed?

BTW -- and probably not the first time you have heard this -- but there is no way to search the environmental comments unless you know what date something was filed? I actually found the old way better -- at least that way I could search by docket number. It appears now that I can only search by date and if I don't know what date something was filed, how am I going to find it?

Good morning Bill –

A decision responding to the two petitions is actively being worked on. However, I'm unable to say anything more about the decision at this time.

Thanks,

Dave

Recall our two petitions to reopen filed in September? We sought approval of the two realignment projects. Where do those stand? Client is asking for status report.
