I am against this acquisition. There are only a few streets in our area that allow traffic to flow when a train has stopped on the tracks. One of these streets floods when the weather is bad & the other is I-57. With the increase in train traffic the street traffic will be routed to side streets & cause more problem in bad weather.

After looking at map and seeing the affected train lines it's quite easy to see that this acquisition is designed to send the train around the city of Chicago and placing a problem they didn't want in our laps.
