Re: Notice of Change of Name: FD No. 36134, Portland Vancouver Junction Railroad, LLC-Operation Exemption—Rail Lines of Columbia Business Center, Clark County, Wash.

Since August 1, 2017, Portland Vancouver Junction Railroad, LLC (PVJR) has provided switching services for Columbia Business Center (CBC), a noncarrier, over a 3-mile line located within a business park in Clark County, Washington. See Portland Vancouver Junction Railroad, LLC-Operation Exemption—Rail Lines of Columbia Business Center, Clark County, Wash. The line, which has no mileposts, interconnects with lines of the BNSF Railway Company (BNSF).

This letter provides the Board notice that PVJR has determined to change the name of the switching service operator to Columbia Shipyards Railroad LLC. (CSRX). The railroad, however, will continue to be the same corporate entity as before and there will be no change with respect to operations or to the entities and individuals controlling the railroad.

If further information is required, please let me know.

Yours truly,

/s/ Richard H. Streeter
