The acquisition of the EJ&E railroad by CN would greatly effect the town of New Lenox in a very negative way. New Lenox is a growing community and has already been experiencing traffic congestion throughout the town but especially on the three North/South roads that run through the town. The railroad tracks intersect all three of these roads. These roads are only two lane roads and if the sale was to be approved the increased freight traffic would effect all three crossing at the same time. This would also effect public safety due police/fire departments not being able to respond from the North/South sections of the city in a timely manner.
