My comment concerning the acquisition of the Canadian National of the EJ& Joliet Railroad line, is basically that the CN says that they're going to relieve congestion in other areas to move it out here. To me that doesn't relieve congestion anywhere, it just moves it. I think if the safety board really want to alleviate a lot of the problems, they would really think about getting CN, the Canadian National, to alleviate the problems in areas where they already exist in areas by putting underpasses and overpasses in those areas that have a lot of train traffic already. But to move the trains from one area causing congestion, to another area to cause more congestion, doesn't make a whole lot of sense, it does not alleviate congestion anywhere, it's just moving it. That's my comments. I live in New Lenox close to the railroads. I do not want to see a lot of railroad trains coming through. It's something, it's difficult to sleep at night if you have whistles blowing at every hour on the hour. That's my comment. Thank you
