I live near Eola Rd and it is already very congested as it is. Adding more trains will only make congestion worse. I believe an overpass for the increased # of trains will help eliminate further congestion. My sister lived near a train crossing & the "horn blowing" was loud. I know she would next to a RR & should expect some noise, but set hours should be set so she doesn't have to hear trains all night & early morning. The overpasses will also help emergency vehicles reach their destinations in a timely manner.

Thank you

Tom
