How will CN's proposed acquisition of the EJ&E impact you?

I understand the motivation to avoid a bottle neck by acquiring a less used line. I understand how, at least temporarily, our communities loss is another gain. I have two questions:

How badly will this interfere with commuter train access for a community built on the assumption of such a service?

What is the process (and how difficult is it) to get grade upgrades which lessen the impact of trains on road transportation?
