Draft Environmental Impact Statement for the Proposed Canadian National Railway Company
Acquisition of the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern Railway Company

STB Finance Docket No. 35087

Comments must be submitted by September 30, 2008.

The number of people who commute east to west across the EJ&E lines every day is huge. The traffic impact studies were limited to the areas immediately in front of a crossing. How will this affect the traffic through the rest of the communities? Today when there is construction blocking some traffic lanes, the impact can be felt in many different locations, not just by the construction itself. Can we be confident that there will not be any gridlock?

What kind of mitigation action can be taken in the future if the impact on a community is too great?
